Steel Delivery Set For Boehm Junior High

William W. Ingraham, assistant regional superintendent of the Pennsbury schools, told board members last night that all the steel for the new Charles H. Boehm Junior High School will be delivered by the end of the week and the classroom section of the school would possibly be ready for occupancy by September.

Good Evening!

Cold wave moving in.

In mid-November you'd hardly expect mid-summer and we're due. Just make sure your car is ready for the deep-freeze.

United Nations police force flies into Egypt today and it's truly an historic occasion.

It begins to appear the U. N. has functioned in this Middle East brawling much more effectively than anyone dreamed it could, and if the peace is really secured, then U. N. emerges as the really great force for the global serenity it was originally destined to become.

But don't downsell Mr. Eisenhower of the U. S. in this Middle East crisis. For without waving the flag or playing to the galleries the President played a most effective role indeed.

We see where Bensalem police have trapped 36 motorists for accelerating a wee bit too much.

Okay. If these wholesale crack-downs on speeding cut down the accidents and innumerable near-misses they're more than justified.

And the yield from the state tax for some eight months has been a mere fraction of what it was supposed to be, we note by the papers.

Same old story during the Fine and Leader administrations. They spend nearly as much collecting that tax as it's worth. About all we're doing is paying the salaries of an enlarged political army.

Neurotic: A man who, when you ask him how he feels in the morning, tells you.

Some boys don't think of girls all the time. But when they think, they think of girls.

Every child knows that the best things in life are free—with one box top.

If you drive, take it easy.

Bristol Boro Workers Help United Fund

Volunteer Pledges Of $687 Donated After Staff Meeting

Bristol borough employees, solicited this fall for the first time for the Bucks County United Community Fund, have responded wholeheartedly with pledges totaling $687, Burgess Anthony R. Niccol reported last night.

Their gifts will be made in monthly payroll deductions, starting in January, to meet next year's needs of 17 health, welfare, and public service agencies supported by the United Fund.

All Voluntary

Emphasizing that the donations are voluntary, Mr. Niccol called a large number of the borough staff, including police, firemen, and water and street department employees, to a rally in the municipal building recently with United Fund officials. Many made their pledges at that time, he said, while the solicitation was continued for a week.

The burgess gave his personal endorsement to the employee drive by donating $100 in addition to his regular payroll pledge at work. He worked with Joseph F. Huhlan, public service division chairman in the United Fund campaign, in arranging for the donations. Special arrangements were made to authorize the monthly deductions.

In his monthly message to Council, at the beginning of the regular meeting last night, Mr. Niccol announced the drive.

One School System Called Advantageous

Superintendent Bair Cites Varied Courses That Could Be Offered

Members of the Pennsbury Joint School Board delayed action last night on a proposal by Regional Superintendent Medill Bair that Morrisville schools become a part of the Pennsbury school system.

The plans will be taken back to each of the three boards making up the Pennsbury system and reports will be brought back to the joint meeting.

The plans for Morrisville to become a part of the Pennsbury system were brought up last night at a meeting held at Pennsbury after Mr. Bair made a study of school reorganization.

He told board members that, "The time has arrived when it might be of mutual advantage for the Morrisville and Pennsbury school boards to sit down together and explore the many advantages which see inherent at this time in such a jointure."

Meanwhile, Morrisville Superintendent of Schools Manoah R. Reiter, contacted today, said the proposed jointure was news to him, "I have no idea what the sentiment of the board is on the subject, and therefore have no comment at this time."

Programs Dovetailed

The Pennsbury regional superintendent pointed out that the "Forward looking" building program of Morrisville could be "dovetailed" with the Pennsbury program and eliminate the duplication of facilities which may occur if such action might be taken later.

"The Morrisville secondary school being planned," he said, "could fit into our building pattern eliminating the need for Pennsbury to construct a junior high school within the next few years."

"The elementary school being planned could be developed so that it could take care of the Falls Township children near the site," he pointed out.

Varied Courses

Mr. Bair said that the financial gains would not be great if the jointure became a reality, but the benefits received in educational facilities and varied courses offered would be "wonderful."

The superintendent told board members that legislation requiring larger school districts is being discussed in Harrisburg, and that it would be, "to our mutual benefit."

Local Bank Merges Today

The anxiously awaited merger of The Philadelphia National Bank and the Delaware Valley Bank and Trust company formally became effective today under the former's name and charter.

The board of directors of both banks voted in favor of the move this past July 12. Final approval by the Comptroller of the Currency followed subsequent concurrence by shareholders of the two banks on October 4. Shareholders of the Delaware Valley Bank received 11 Philadelphia National shares for each 20 shares previously held.

Clyde J. Waterman becomes vice president of the enlarged bank, which will now have five Bucks County offices, located in Bristol, Midway, Levittown, Southampton and Yardley. A second key executive responsibility goes to C. Donald Moyer, who is now assistant vice president in charge of operations in PNB's Bucks County offices.

In joining forces, the two banks now have combined capital, surplus and undivided profits in excess of $85,000,000 while total resources approximate $1,000,000,000.

PNB has announced that the same banking people will remain in charge.

Fire Call Number Is Changed For Tullytown Squad

Telephone fire arrangements for the Tullytown Fire Company have been changed, with a dispatcher at the Levittown water works receiving the calls, Councilman Michael Piroli, fire committee chairman, told the Tullytown Borough Council last night.

Formerly the Bristol township fire and police dispatcher received the borough fire calls and set off the alarm. The change was made, he said, because Tullytown firemen reported calls got mixed up. On the occasion of a near-drowning incident in Tullytown, the borough firemen were never called by the dispatcher.

Mr. Piroli announced that a fire hydrant has been installed on Levittown Parkway in front of St. Michael the Archangel Catholic Church and school, while another is being installed at the Walt Disney elementary school.

Tullytown Fire company turned over $500 to the borough treasurer for rental of the bathing beach they operated.

Not Cigarettes

Air Pollution Cited As Top Cancer Cause

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. —UP—A leading authority on cancer reported today that a great majority of lung cancers, particularly in men, are traceable to environmental factors rather than excessive cigarette smoking.

Dr. W. C. Hueper, head of the environmental cancer section of the National Cancer Institute, National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md., issued the report in a paper written for the American Public Health Association's 84th annual meeting.

Hueper listed factors in support of his views as the irregular epidemiologic pattern presented by the regional distribution and rise in the frequency of lung cancers in different countries, states and communities; the higher frequency rates of lung cancers among residents of urban and industrialized areas; the increase in lung cancers during an era when cigarette smoking was still uncommon, and the demonstration of some eight specific respiratory carcinogens causing lung cancer among members of restricted occupational groups.

"During the past five decades," Hueper said, "increasing amounts of industrial air pollutants released by some industries producing cancer-related chemicals and of exhausts of motor vehicles have been introduced into the atmosphere. Evidence that some of these agents possess cancer-producing properties has been shown in chemical analyses of air pollutants of several metropolitan and industrialized regions."

Anglo-French Stir New Suez Crisis

LONDON—UP—Britain and France hinted today they would reject Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's terms for establishing a United Nations police force in Egypt.

New snags, both diplomatic and mechanical, arose to plague U.N. peace efforts in the Middle East even as U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold prepared to fly to Rome, Naples, and Cairo on his most delicate mission. The secretary planned to leave his U. N. headquarters at 5 p.m. (EST) to meet U. N. police force commander Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns in Rome.

Units of the U. N. police army trickled slowly into the Naples staging area. One group of 312 Danish soldiers was being airlifted from Copenhagen today, and about 35 Canadians also were en route by air. In Naples already were 165 Danes, Norwegians and Colombians.

Takeoff Postponed
The first units had been expected to fly to Cairo today. Later it was announced there would be a delay and that they "may" leave Naples Wednesday. The delay was said to be the result of a last-minute decision to take the troops to an airport in the Suez Canal Zone, "probably near Ismailia" instead of to Cairo.

The possibility the French and British may reject Nasser's terms for the police army which would replace their own forces in the canal zone was seen in both London and Paris.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said the joint forces would "remain in the canal zone until we are relieved exactly by an international police at every essential point."

London sources said Britain could not accept any "watering down" of the U.N. resolution setting up the police force.

Both said a major role of the U. N. force should be to insure freedom of navigation through the canal.

Both were disturbed at the terms of the agreement announced Monday night in Cairo between Nasser and Hammarskjold.

The agreement gave Egypt the right to order the police army out at any time and to say where its units will be located. It also stipulated that the U. N. forces will withdraw from the canal zone as soon as the Anglo-French situation is resolved.

Falls Permits Variances

The Falls Township Zoning Board of Adjustment granted two zoning variance requests at its meeting last night.

The Atlantic Refining Company was given permission to erect a gasoline service sales office and lubrication on the northeast corner of the Newportville - Fallsington road and Amelia drive with a 51 foot set back from the legal right of way. The zoning ordinance required a 100 foot set back in a commercial zone.

E. H. Garber, a Philadelphia attorney, and C. R. Ford, real estate broker, represented the Atlantic Refining company. John Leaper, the owner of a building housing bowling alleys adjacent to the proposed building, appeared at the hearing to question the drainage situation. After considerable discussion, it was established that the present system will be satisfactory.

In other action, John Dobos, Jr., of 47 Penn lane, Fallsington, was granted permission to erect a garage five feet from his property line, instead of the six feet required by ordinance.

Ernest Ezren, secretary of the board, noted that these hearings complete all zoning variance hearings scheduled at present.

New Fighting Erupts In Hungary

Reports Have Top Soviet Leaders On Scene To Quell Revolt

VIENNA —UP— New fighting erupted today in Budapest where Soviet leaders were reported trying to quell the Hungarian rebellion.

Reports from an unimpeachable source in Budapest said it was impossible to pin down definitely where the battle was raging, since it was some distance from the center of the city.

It was evident, however, that diehard bands of freedom fighters were still battling Soviet tanks and troops on the outskirts of the shattered capital, the source said. He added there was no fighting in the inner city.

A delegation of top Soviet leaders flew into Budapest in a desperate attempt to find ways of ending continued resistance to the Communist regime.

Austrian authorities reported the flood of refugees from Hungary continued with more than 2,300 men, women and children crossing the frontier into Austria since noon Monday.

The Austrian radio said Hungarian Communist border guards opened fire on a group of refugees trying to cross near Rechnitz. The radio said two of the refugees were wounded and the others beaten and dragged back bodily.

United Press correspondent Russell Jones said in a dispatch from Budapest there were reports a group of Russian leaders, including Nikita S. Khrushchev, flew there to try to restore order and bolster the puppet regime of Janos Kadar.

Boehm School

Mr. Bair pointed out that at the time the school was first proposed about 25 per cent of the student enrollment was going on to college. Now, he said, 52 per cent of the students enroll in colleges after graduation.

Also, more students are taking business education courses than before, he said. About 35 per cent of our enrollment is taking business education courses now, Mr. Bair said.

In other action, the board delegated Makefield School Board President Edward Robertson to meet with the township supervisors about the possibility of getting more police guards for the schools.

The board agreed that its representatives on the technical school board would not vote on any matter unless a legal quorum is present at the meeting, thus insuring a more equal representation on the technical school board.

LONDON—UP—The Duke and Duchess of Windsor arrived here today for their first visit in three years and were met with cries of "Please don't go away again" and "Stay with us, we need you."

The appeals came from some 100 middle-aged and elderly people who gathered at Victoria Station to greet the former king who gave up his crown for Mrs. Wallis Warfield Simpson.

Hunter Is Victim Of Ricochet Slug

A Philadelphia man was released from Nazareth hospital this morning certain that "not only footballs take funny bounces."

Richard Pommager was hurt Sunday in a weird hunting accident in Cornwells Heights when a BB shot bounced off a rock and ricocheted through one leg and hit his other.

Pommager, 34, told Bensalem police that he took dead aim at a squirrel scooting through the woods. He fired the gun and missed the little animal.

Instead the BB caught a rock bounced back at him, struck the bone of his left leg and lodged in his right.

Doctors at Nazareth hospital removed the BB from his leg in an operation yesterday.

Pommager was taken to the hospital by his hunting companions, Leon Karlinsky, 27, of 3236 Fordham road, Philadelphia and Pommager's son, Richard, 11.

Route 1 Crash Injures 3

Three persons were injured in an automobile crash last night on U.S. Route 1 at the Olds boulevard intersection.

Treated and discharged at Lower Bucks County hospital were: Clara Ford, 43, of 1318 North 53rd street, for a small laceration of the lip; Mary Turner, 54, of 727 North 40th street, for contusions of the legs; and Estelle Youse, 46, of 2625 North 24th street, abrasions of the knee; all of Philadelphia.

The injured were passengers in a car driven by Herman C. Ford, 46, of 1318 North 53rd street, Philadelphia. Ford crashed into the rear of a vehicle driven by Ann Moragues Collins, 26, of 700 Ashdale road, Morrisville, who had stopped for the traffic light at the intersection.

Ford was charged with driving too fast for conditions by Hugh McCue, of the Falls Township Police.

The Levittown Emergency Squad transported the injured to the hospital.

Budd Plant Strike Talks Called Off

PHILADELPHIA — UP — Hope for a quick settlement of a strike by some 3,400 production workers at the Budd Company's Red Lion plant here were dimmed today with the cancellation of a negotiating meeting scheduled between management and union representatives.

John R. Murray, U. S. Mediation and Conciliation Service representative, said no date had been set for a further meeting. The plant has been strikebound since Oct. 20 in a dispute over piece work rates on new automobile chassis. The union claims the rates paid on last year's chassis assembly line amount to a pay cut because of the 1957 models' greater length.

He's Lucky To Be Alive

Shipwrecked Saturday when the "Lucky," a 31-foot cabin cruiser, hit submerged pilings in the Inland Waterway near Norfolk, Va., Rep. Karl C. King (R-Bucks-Lehigh), of Falls township, yesterday flew over the ill-fated craft and learned how lucky he was to escape.

He and Paul Bailey of Millville, N. J., owner of the boat, saw her upside down, almost completely submerged. They and three other passengers and crew members had sat atop the cabin of the sinking craft three hours Saturday night, their radio, lungs, and flares ineffective, before a passing tug took them aboard.

Mr. King today reported to his office at the King Farms that he was advised the boat is not worth salvaging. He will make a water trip there, however, to see if any parts or effects can be saved.

Bensalem Agrees On Junior School

Bensalem township authority "generally accepted" the idea of arranging for the financing of the new junior high school, it was decided at a meeting of the authority last night.

The only hitch in outright acceptance of the proposal by representatives of the school board came in the question of architects.

School board officials had suggested one architectural firm to handle the new building.

The authority decided three separate firms would be contacted and asked to submit drawings, sketches, and proposed costs of the new building. The authority will then select the suitable architect.

Past Tries Studied On Incorporation

The incorporation study committee of the Levittown Civic association will meet tomorrow night in the home of Mrs. Julius J. Frankel, 52 Sweet Gum road, Snowball Gate, Levittown.

Pennsbury Merger Plan Discussed

Wider Selection

Mr. Bair said that preliminary studies show that Morrisville secondary students would not affect our class sizes and should make a much wider selection of subjects available to them.

The approximate 1957-58 enrollment figures he said, would be 1,185 students in grades 7-8; 1,246 students in grades 9-10; and 346 students in grades 11-12. Total enrollment would be 3,295 students in the system, Mr. Bair said.

The Pennsbury system as it is now will have 2,776 students next term, Mr. Bair said, and Morrisville would bring in an additional 519 students.

Members of the joint board listened to the plan with mixed emotions and surprise as this was the first time the proposal had been officially made.

The board turned down a suggestion to meet with the Morrisville group, a board spokesman until the individual Pennsbury boards could meet and discuss the matter further.

Too many things have to be discussed among ourselves before we meet with the Morrisville group, a board spokesman said.

Seeing Levittown

By JIM ORT

It's a small world! The brother-in-law of a Levittown woman was elected governor of West Virginia in the recent election. The governor-elect, Cecil H. Underwood, is related to Mrs. Joseph Cala, of 19 Pineneedle road, Pinewood. Mrs. Cala and her husband spent election night in West Virginia and were with Mr. Underwood when the final tallies came through. At 34, he is one of the youngest men ever elected to the governorship of the state.

Found, one star! Not the kind that fall from the sky, though. A bronze star medal was found Saturday in the Levittown Shopping Center. Undoubtedly, this medal means a lot to someone. If you know-who lost it, give the "Times" a call, Ask for Dot.

Yardley Borough to Seek Continuing Bus Service

Earlier the board had received a protest against the proposed discontinuation of the service.

In other action, the council received a letter from the Makefield Civic Association, on the protest move of the extension of Route 13, asking the council to inform various Yardley civic organizations to join with them in protesting the move.

Five to Attend FBI School

The five-man Tullytown borough police force will attend the F.B.I. training school for the first time this year, as a result of action by Borough Council last night.

Council approved hiring two substitute policemen during the daylight hours Nov. 19 to 21, so that Chief John B. Walterick and the four patrolmen can attend the school in Lower Southampton township. It is sponsored by the Pennsylvania Police Chiefs Association.

Sending the borough officers to school was strongly recommended by Councilman Charles Mitchell, chairman of the police committee and Burgess Frederick Rentschler. The substitute policemen will be John Steen, fire chief and a former borough policeman and Frank Jacob, former constable and a member of the auxiliary police.

Council moved to buy four no parking signs to erect on Levittown Parkway from the Meenan service station to the entrance to Lakeside.

Bensalem Police Nab 36 In Traps

In an effort to curb speeding through the township, Bensalem police lowered the boom on 36 motorists yesterday in two separate speed traps.

On Route 13 at Andalusia, 29 drivers all reported exceeding the 35-mile speed limit, were stopped and given summonses. Seven others were collared at State road in Andalusia.

Police officials said the traps were set because of the sharp increase in accidents last month. In the township in October, 34 accidents were reported. Normal for this month is about 15, police said.

BRUSH FIRE QUELLED

Local Bank

(Continued from Page One) throughout the five Bucks County offices. Local management also continues and, except for certain matters of overall policy, retains its authority of decision in the area.

A statement was issued by Mr. Moyer, assistant vice president, in charge of operations in PNB's five Bucks County offices. In it, he re-affirmed the Delaware Valley Bank's delight in joining forces with PNG.

"It is inspiring to know that we have merged with such a splendid, forward-looking bank as PNB," he said. "This entire area cannot help but benefit immensely - both now and in the challenging days ahead."

Although our important segment of the Delaware Valley has progressed remarkably in recent years, it is entering an even more exciting new era of growth.

"To better meet the increased banking needs of that growth, I know of no other bank with which we should rather be united. We are most happy to now be a part of their fine banking family."

Valley Road Job To Be Awarded

A contract for the widening and reconstruction of the Oxford Valley road will be awarded within the next 15 days, Milton Berkes, chairman of the Falls Township Supervisors, revealed last night.

Bids were opened Friday, in Harrisburg in the office of Joseph J. Lawler Secretary of Highways. Under law, the State Highway department may study the bids for 15 days before awarding the contract to the lowest, responsible bidder.

Plans call for widening the access road to Levittown and Fairless Hills to 56 feet width from Fairless Hills to the intersection of U.S. Route 1. It will run 1153 feet from Fairless Hills to the curve, then another 502 feet north to Route 1. The latter portion of the highway will have medial strips.

Civic Auditorium Urged In Croydon

The construction of a civic auditorium for Croydon was proposed at last night's meeting of the Organization for Croydon Borough.

Charles Hatcher, vice president of the group, said funds for the building could be raised through community contributions. He said he had no idea of the cost but explained that rental fees could pay for the maintenance and operating expenses of the building.

New '57 Car Is Demolished

A new 1957 Ford was stopped for good yesterday with exactly 38 miles on the speedometer.

Paul Wasalosky, 43, of 2335 Bridge street, Philadelphia, was cruising serenely down Knights road yesterday in his shiny new vehicle when "it happened" as he told Bensalem police.

Wasalosky told police he was going east when Norman Furness, 39, of 1456 Bensalem avenue, was going north on Street road.

The cars came crashing together at the intersection as both drivers pounded the brakes.

Wasalosky's new car was ready for the junk heap with heavy damage to the front end, the doors, the grill and both fenders. He was unhurt.

Furness suffered cuts and abrasions and was treated and released at Lower Bucks hospital. A young son, 11-year-old Robert was also cut slightly in the accident and released after treatment.

Police officers Alexander Mocknatch and Lawrence Michaels estimated damage to the Furness car at $300.

Sneak Attack

Britain "Deeply Disturbed" In the British House of Commons, Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd said Britain is "deeply disturbed" by the Soviet threat to send "private armies" of "volunteers" into Egypt.

He described it as a "favorite Communist method of pursuing hostilities," and cited the previous cases of Korea and the Greek civil war.

He said the Anglo-French invasion of Egypt had had the effect of bringing about a United Nations supervised cease-fire and of disclosing the extent of Russian penetration of the area.

"It is clear that Egypt was already deep in the toils and so far committed by her dealings with the Soviet that she could not draw back," he said.

In other developments today: Cairo Radio said that anti-aircraft guns in Alexandria opened up with heavy fire in the first of two air raid alarms.

At the Anglo-French headquarters on Cyprus military leaders warned of the possibility of a "sneak" air attack from Syria during the period a U. N. police force is taking over its duties in the Middle East.

Bond Issue, Authority Aid Seen In Plan

A three-man committee was named at last night's Tullytown Borough Council meeting to study the possibility of extending water and sewer service to the old part of the community.

The committee named by Council President Peter A. Santoro, would study financing and construction problems of the proposal.

After the meeting Santoro said he feels the water and sewer lines can be laid to the 125 homes in the section for about $165,000.

Consult With Authority

The committee, which consists of Santoro, Councilman Oscar Bortner, and Borough Solicitor Jack Siroto, will hold a series of meetings and consult with the Lower Bucks County Joint Municipal Authority. Also assisting the committee will be Michael Piroli, chairman of the borough finance committee; William Major, borough engineer and councilman, and Borough Secretary Thomas Fagella.

Santoro said he hopes the committee will be able to submit a report and recommendation by the end of January. When the report is completed, he said, a special public meeting will be called and the report and proposal will be "spelled out" in detail to the residents.

He said the financing could be handled through a bond issue with some help from the Authority. "We have to make this as painless as possible on the residents," he said.

Finance Help He added that he felt the authority should help finance the project.

"It's ridiculous," he said, "that parts of Tullytown, which organized the original authority should still be without water and sewers after four years."

The Authority provides water and sewer service in Levittown, Bristol township and Tullytown are represented off it.

Santoro repeated his stand last night that Tullytown will be against admitting any new municipalities to the authority until the older section gets water and sewers.

Request Representation Falls and Middletown townships, which include parts of Levittown, have requested representation on the authority.

At the same time Tullytown council was unable to decide on appointing a new member to the authority. The borough has three representatives on the water and sewer body.

The term of William Swangler expires Dec. 31. Four names including that of Santoro were proposed with none of them getting the required majority.

Nominated For Post Others nominated for the $2500-a-year post were: Nicholas Eberle, former council president, Clement Lennie, chairman of the Tullytown Republican club, and Philip Weck, former chairman of the borough Democratic club.

Santoro got three votes, Lennie two, and Weck and Eberle, one each. Further action was postponed until next month's meeting.

In other business, council discussed refunding the $1026 building permit fee paid by the McCloskey firm, on the new Catholic high school. William Major, chairman of the building committee, was instructed to see if similar fees were refunded on other church buildings in the past.

The police committee was instructed to draw up specifications for a new police car and forward them to the solicitor. The solicitor would advertise for bids to be opened at the next meeting of council.

Zoning Survey

The body also voted to have a survey made of zoning problems in the old section of the borough by the Government Consulting Service of the Institute of Local and State Government, at the University of Pennsylvania.

The survey will cost a minimum of $1250 with an additional $60 fee charged for each meeting attended by the planners.

Santoro clashed with members of the street committee over the resurfacing of River road. He charged the committee had no authorization to do the job. In the future he said he would not sign expense vouchers unless the purchase or work had been authorized by council.

Joseph Cutcliffe, committee chairman, Michael Piroli and William Major, committee members, all claimed the project had been authorized. Major estimated the cost of resurfacing the 800-foot length of road at $350.
